

BIOGRAPHY

Bonnie Stephenson, Director of Community Health/EMS and Injury Prevention for the Caddo Nation of Oklahoma. Bonnie is of Caddo/Delaware Indian Blood and has one son and one daughter, two granddaughters and twin grandsons. I have been working with the Caddo Nation for 8 years and previously worked as the tribal administrator for the Delaware Nation for 21 years. Graduated from Oklahoma State University with a B.S. degree in Health/Physical Education. Served as an elected official for the Delaware Nation. A certified Native American Fitness Instructor. I served on the Board for Native American for Injury Prevention out of the Lawton Service Unit, since 1995. My worked in injury Prevention consisted of child safety seat programs, smoke detector/fire extinguisher distribution, home safety survey, elderly falls prevention program, safety in the work place, bicycle safety and rodeos, water safety and fire safety education, and seat belt education.

I have training in Level 1 and 2 Injury Prevention Courses, EPI Information 2000, Grants Management and Grant Writing, certified Child Passenger Seat Tech (4 day).

I was interested in the National Tribal Steering Committee for Injury Prevention for the opportunity to create awareness nation wide and addressing the problems and funding in injury prevention and provide education to our tribal people, networking with other I.P. and supporting injury prevention activities nationwide and provide training for our Indian people.

I may be contacted at Caddo Nation, P.O. Box 487, Binger, OK 73009, telephone 405-656-2882 or email caddochr@caddoelectric.net
